

What's Eating Your Collection?

Clover weevil Sitona lineatus

Adult beetle, there are many species of clover weevil. None are museum pest species.

Size: 5 -7mm

Shape: Elongated beetle shape

Colour: Brown, some species have metallic scales

Antennae: Club at end of antennae

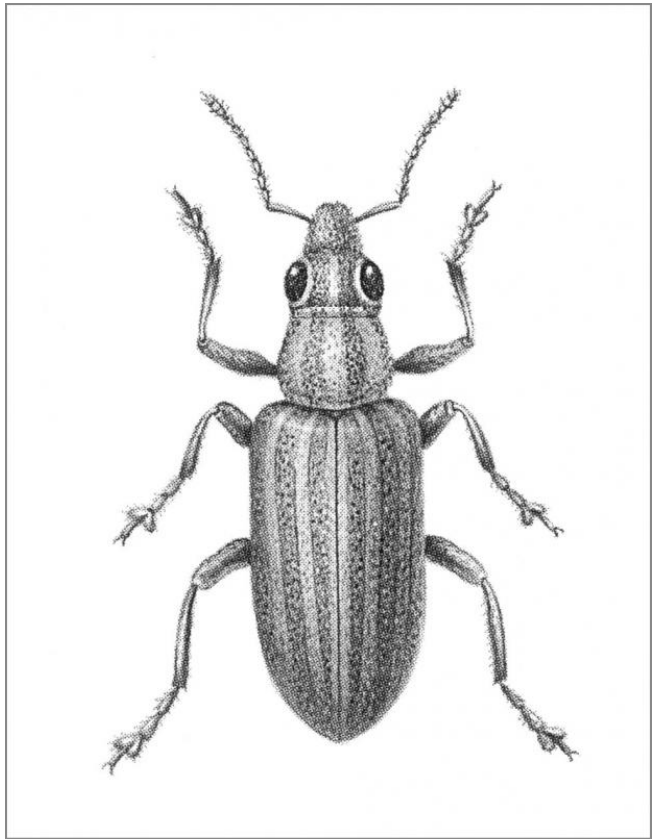

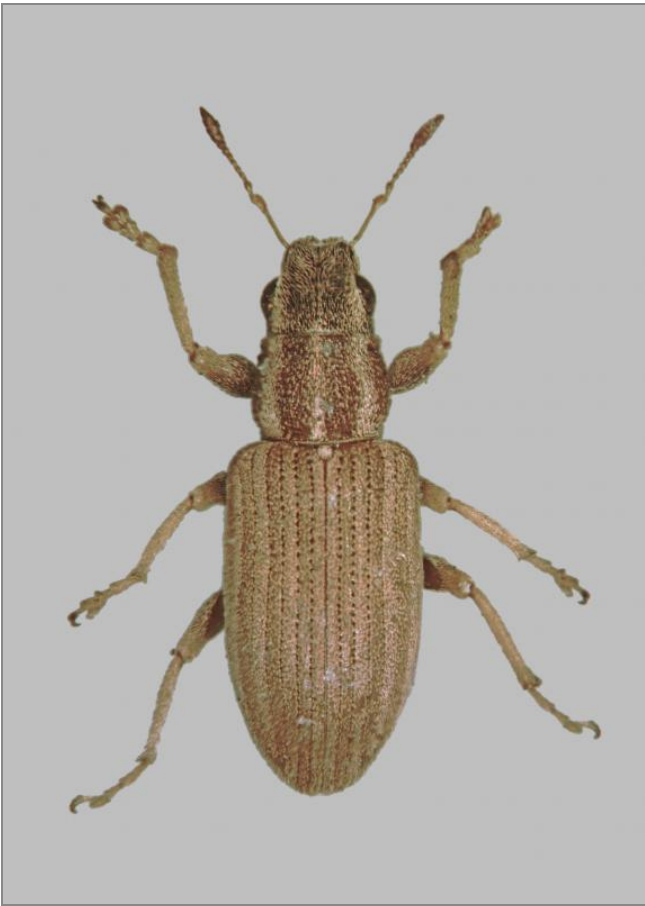

Distinguishing features: There are sometimes longitudinal lines on the thorax, some have metallic scales.

Adults eat: Very little

Larvae are not museum pests. They eat clover and other plants.

Damage: None

Often found on: Traps near windows and window sills.

Related Objects

Wood weevils
Pentarthrum huttoni and Euophryum confine