

What's Eating Your Collection?

Death watch beetle frass

Flattened discs, large enough to be seen with the naked eye.

The individual particles are rounded and tend to roll into scattered groups rather than sit in a conical pile.

Related Objects

Death watch beetle
Xestobium rufovillosum